

Career Knowledge for LGBTQ Students

Resource Guide

Key Takeaways

Decide your comfort level: Only you can decide how open you want to be on your resume, in interviews, and at work

Don't go it alone: Make use of resources, find a mentor, and have a good support network

Do your research: And focus your job search on inclusive organizations

Statistics, Data, and More

Pride at Work

Philadelphia Commission on Human Relations

Movement Advancement Project

Equaldex

GLAAD

Company Research

DiversityInc. Top 50 Companies for Diversity

HRC Best Places to Work 2016

HRC Corporate Equality Index

National LGBT Chamber of Commerce

Resources for Transgender Students

National Center for Transgender Equality

HRC Transgender Visibility Guide

HRC Transgender Resources

Transgender Law Center

Transgender Law and Policy Institute

World Professional Association for Transgender Health

Additional Resources

Lambda Legal

Out & Equal

National LGBTQ Task Force

National Organization of Gay and Lesbian Students and Technical Professionals

An LGBT Student Guide to Study Abroad

National Center for Lesbian Rights

On-Campus Resources

Office of Equality and Diversity

Steinbright Career Development Center

The Student Center for Diversity and Inclusion

The Counselling Center

Job Search Resources

LBGT Career Link \(Out & Equal\)

Gender Neutral Interview and Business Clothing

Out for Undergrad \(Networking Event\)

Out Professionals \(Networking and Job Board\)

DREXEL UNIVERSITY

Steinbright

Career Development Center