

Drexel Supports Our Veterans

Drexel University has long been considered a top choice for military-connected students, and we are proud of our nearly 700 student-veterans, active-duty, reservists, and military dependents who have decided to make Drexel their home. The Office of Veteran Student Services was founded in 2009 and recently renamed the Center for Military and Veteran Services (CMVS) to better represent this important diverse population. CMVS coordinates a campus-wide effort to facilitate a high-quality experience for all military-connected students. In addition, CMVS engages with veteran alumni, faculty, and professional staff to provide advocacy and events. In addition, the professional partnerships between CMVS and regional service providers ensure that our military-connected Dragons have a great network beyond campus and the city of Philadelphia.

CMVS is dedicated to equipping our military-connected Dragons with the multitude of services and support available to them at Drexel. This includes access to the Masci Family Student Veterans Lounge, an exclusive space just for veterans and a great place to meet others with similar experiences. For access, student-veterans only need to scan their active University ID. Alumni veterans and veteran stakeholders are welcome.

Military-Friendly School Recognition
